

Lisa Carr Artist Statement

My work represents my love for surface and texture. I gather inspiration from rusted, scratched, dented, marred or otherwise weathered objects, both man-made and from nature. I'm drawn to the beauty of imperfection.

I see a unique richness in objects that are exposed to various elements and environments over time. I attempt to replicate that process on each painted surface. Like-wise in life, we become enriched by layers of experiences which leave behind deposits of memories, and scars creating a unique texture within us.
